BPVC Tip Sheet - Accessing ASME Boiler Pressure & Vessel Codes Standards

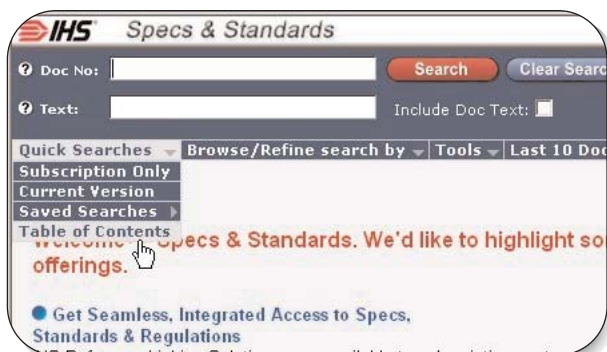

The ASME BPVC collection of documents within IHS Specs & Standards provides access to the latest rules of safety for the design, fabrication, maintenance and inspection of boilers and pressure vessels, power producing machines (and associated subsystems), and nuclear power plant components.

Using the Quick Search Menu

Accessing the ASME BPVC table of contents is a simple process once you are logged into IHS Specs and Standards.

1. Roll your mouse over the Quick Searches drop-down menu under the Text input field and click on Table of Contents.

2. The Table of Contents displays as expandable and collapsible folders. The folders include ASME BPVC 1995 - 2004 Section data (including Addendum), ASME BPVC data as related to Engineering Sciences Data Unit (ESDU) series, and ASME BPVC data sections in the Minerals Management Service (MMS) standards collection.

3. The panel with the word/link, TOP, is always at the top of any folder or document level list. Click on TOP to return to the main Table of Contents menu. In addition, this panel will always inform you of where you are in a particular section.

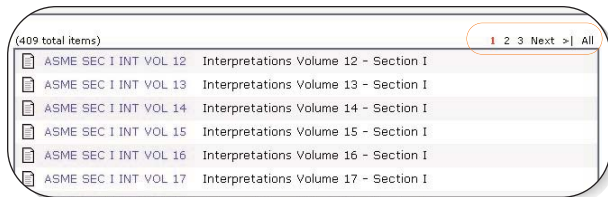

Expanding the ASME BPVC Folders

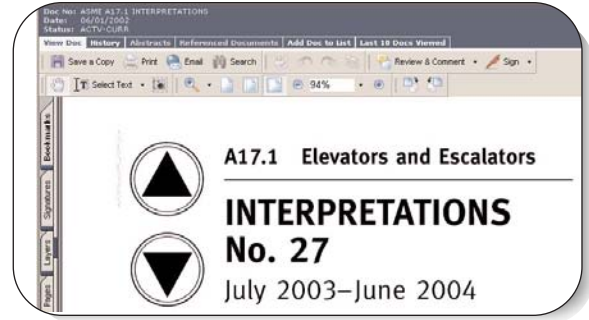

You can expand the ASME BPVC folders down to the Section, Code Case, Referenced Standards, and Interpretations level, and then expand those folders down to the page level.

Example of ASME BPVC Interpretations:

1. Click on the 2004 ASME BPVC with 2005 Agenda link on the main (TOP) Table of Contents menu.
2. Click on the Interpretations link at the bottom of the list.
3. You can:
 - Click on number links or Next to scroll through the list. The number and next links produce 30 records per page.
 - Click on the end of the list icon, >|, to go to the last page
 - Click All to display the entire list.

3. Click on the first link, ASME SEC I INT VOL 12 Interpretations Volume 12 - Section I. A secondary window opens with a PDF image of the document.

4. Use the Adobe Reader scroll bar or previous/next arrows to scroll through the document.
5. Click the Close button on the secondary window to close the PDF image.
6. Click the Top link to return to the main Table of Contents page where you can select a different ASME BPVC collection.
